Logging in or calling us for the first time?

When you log on or call us for the first time, we'll ask you for some personal information in order to access your account.

Your retirement plan transition is complete. You now have full access to your account, online and by phone. Here are some simple ideas to help you make the most of the plan.

Make a contribution ... to yourself

The plan can help you live the life you want ... today and tomorrow. Your first step is to enroll and start contributing.

- Already contributing? Good choice! To help ensure you get where you want to be, could you afford to contribute more? Even a little more can make a big difference.
- Not contributing yet? Start saving today! It may be the best gift you've ever given yourself.

Give your investments a checkup

Now is a great time to review your investments. Many experts recommend doing this at least once a year. At mylife.jhrps.com, you'll find the tools, resources, and guidance needed to help with this process.

Consider combining your accounts

Do you have retirement plan accounts from previous employers? You may want to consider rolling those balances into your current plan. Having everything in one place may save you time and give you a more complete view of your savings picture.* If you want to consolidate, you can get started by calling our consolidation center at 800.555.5165.

Let us know if you have questions

Be sure to keep the attached wallet card handy. It shows how you can reach us online and by phone.

Again, welcome! We look forward to helping you make progress ... one step at a time.
